

You are riding bikes with your family at a park. Your sister cuts you off so closely that you lose your balance and fall off your bike.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?

A friend at school has said bad things about you behind your back.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?

Your soccer coach put your least favorite teammate in the game and made you sit on the bench. You didn't do anything wrong.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?

Your brother breaks a vase. Your mother says it's your fault for not watching him closely enough.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?

Your dad did something that upset you, so you talked back to him. As a punishment, he won't let you go to your friend's party. You feel he's been unfair.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?

A kid from the neighborhood likes to make fun of you, especially when there's a big group of kids around.

Getting Even...
or Giving Grace?